2 types of students

It is clear that not all students are similar to each other. Someone from the guys are more intelligent than the rest, someone is more secured in the material plan. Due to the fact that the differences between students can be carried out in many criteria, I faced the problem of choosing the criterion that would break the entire student community for 2 large camps. After a few minutes of thought, I was still able to pick up an optimal criterion that allowed me to clearly divide all students for 2 types.

The criterion is the following: place of residence, i.e. Is the student with a local resident, or he came for a period of studying from another city.

You may ask: why did you cost all students in 2 groups? The thing is that I wanted to give you a full-fledged picture of student life from different points of view: from the point of view of the local resident (resident) and arrival (non-resident).

After all, probably, among the readers there are representatives, both the first and second group. Therefore, this decision on breaking 2 camps I consider it quite justified. In addition, you can compare student life from two differing parties, which will make it possible to make even more objective conclusions about student life.

2 myth about student life

Lovers of club life immediately disgust - students do not go every weekend into clubs. It is a myth. I do not argue - there is a certain part of the students who go to clubs almost every day. However, most of the student fraternity does not suit weekly parties.

The question arises: why? The answer is banal: sometimes by the end of the school week simply does not remain forces to go somewhere with friends. Of course, sometimes students go to relax from everyday bustle of entertainment institutions, but this happens not every week.

So, if you used to think that a student life is a solid party, I want to upset you - it's far wrong. At the same time, do not fall into the oppressed state. In fact, there is a myth that in the university is difficult to learn. Duck This is also not true. If you have a head on your shoulders, and if you choose a specialty (direction) of training, according to your abilities and desire, then you may not doubt - study for you will be easy. Your main task is to hold out the first 2 courses, and at the same time establish yourself a good student.

The rest of the time you can safely finish, because Your prestige of good student will play for you. As they say, you first work for a wearing a guy, and then the tilt works for you. Who read Robert Kiyosaki (I recommend reading his books to everyone without exception!), He will understand what I mean.
